“My Answer”

Billy Graham,
Evangelist

Question:

“Some religious people I know tell me that the ten commandments are part of the law and do not apply to us today. They say that Christians are free from the law. Is that right?”

Answer:

“No, it is not right, and I hope that you will not be misled by these false opinions. It is very important that Christians understand what the Bible means when it says they are ‘free from the law’.

It certainly does not mean that they are free from the obligations of the moral law of God and are at liberty to sin.

You see, the word 'law' is used by the New Testament writers in two senses.

Sometimes it refers to the ceremonial law of the Old Testament which is concerned about ritual matters and regulations regarding food and drink and things of this kind.

This ceremonial law was of a passing character, and was done away when Christ came. From this law Christians are indeed free.

But the New Testament also speaks of the moral law which is of a permanent unchanging character and is summarized in the Ten Commandments.

This law sets forth God's demands on human life and man's duty to God and his neighbor. That it definitely applies to the Christian is made clear in Romans 13:8-10.

Of course, it is quite true that the Christian is not saved by his efforts to keep the law.

But as one who is saved by God's mercy through faith in Christ, he is under an obligation to obey God's law.

As it has been said, in Christ we are free from sin, but not free to sin.
‘If you love me,’ He said, ‘keep my commandments (John 14:15).’”

Commandments apply?

Which of the Ten Commandments applies to us today? I know that they were written thousands of years ago and times have changed, but are some of them still useful?

Commandments apply!

The Ten Commandments are never out-of-date. They express the unchanging will of God in our lives, regardless of changes in human society. If you look at them closely, you will see that the first few commandments deal with our relationship with God.

Commandments apply!

The other commandments deal with our relationship with other people and with things. Our lives would be happier if we followed God's prescription for sound living.

Law now written in the heart
Spirit → Christ → Cross → Law

A still life scene featuring a lit oil lamp, a glass chalice, and an open book on a wooden surface. The lamp is lit, casting a warm glow. The chalice is partially filled with a golden liquid. The open book is the central focus, with its pages illuminated by the lamp's light. A pen lies on the right page of the book. The background is dark, making the objects stand out.

Romans 8:3-4

For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh:

That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

Romans 5:13

...sin is not imputed
when there is no law.

Doesn't living
under grace, by faith, make keeping God's law
non-essential?

God's Law?

Romans 6:1, 2

What shall we say then?
Shall we continue in sin,
that grace may abound? God forbid.
How shall we, that are dead to sin, live any longer therein?

Romans 3:31

Do we then make void
the law through faith?
God forbid: yea, we establish the law.
